Put Your Best Foot . . .

Every one of us wants to do our best in what we set out to do. In high school we are given many chances to show what we're made of. Sports, music, speech, drama and academics are just a few of these chances. As Christians, we should make it our goal to do our best and be a good example of attitude and ability. Among ourselves, first impressions don't really matter, but in our activities with other schools a first impression is a testimony of our Lord. This is why we want you, as an individual, to PUT YOUR BEST FOOT FORWARD!!

IMPRINTS ON OUR WORLD

WORLD: Armed and audacious, Saddam Hussein takes Kuwait—and no one knows how to stop him

The current events of this year leave not to be forgotten imprints of our lives. Here at home, Congress rushes to get an acceptable budget proposal package for the upcoming year. Abroad, we observe Germany's excitement at once more becoming a single nation. Yet one influence still being formed influences our lives the most -- the Middle East Crisis. Our pocketbooks feel the squeeze of this crisis as gas prices escalate. Because of this same crisis we now face the possibility of war as we continue to send troops to Saudi Arabia where they await taking action against Iraq for invading Kuwait.

So we wait to see what impressions these imprints will leave on our lives. Whether they bring peace or war, higher taxes or lower taxes, We have the calm assurance that God controls all.

Footstep

Forward!

The elementary right up to the staff keeps taking new steps. For some, it seems like an eternity before they reach that final step - their senior year. For others, this goal remains only a short step away. In the staff, there are the steps of teaching a new class, of maybe even taking classes to enrich their teaching, or approaching the curriculum in a new way. Yet for one and all these are FOOTSTEPS FORWARD.

Friendly, fun, and athletic would probably describe the class of '94. As our numbers have grown larger this year, so has our school spirit. This has been very evident, as many of the freshmen have participated in sports, music, and speech. Not only has our class grown in numbers and spirit, but we have also grown closer together and developed a unique sense of unity. Because of the many hardships that some of our class members have gone through, we have learned how to reach out and comfort one another like a family. Throughout this year we have been able to start friendships that will last us a lifetime.

To really understand our class, you have to look beyond the surface. Its the different aspects of each person's life that make our class so interesting. From many different paths we have come together, and now our paths have become one. The activities we are in and the lessons that we are taught have become treasures that cannot be replaced. For beyond the surface of our class lie the qualities that tie a bond between us that cannot be broken.

Seniors

When you look at our class this year, you might not see many numbers, but you will see a class that's definitely grown close despite our great diversity. Our small size has allowed us to get to know each other very well, our good points and our bad, but we wouldn't want it any other way. Through laughter and tears our class has developed special friendships and memories that we will always hold dear to our hearts.

FOOTLOOSE!

The graduating class of "1991".

Class pictures were taken at the "one lane bridge".

As seniors, it is a bit hard to believe we're actually in our last year. We've gone through alot together in these past years. From Dormbust "88" our freshman year to deciding on announcements for graduation we've all been there as a class to work through it. Next year won't be the same. We'll be on our own, making choices by ourselves. Perhaps we'll even miss those "fun" class meetings in which we discussed Jostens and Willsies. Just the same, those are memories to hold on to, but for now we're gonna make the best of our last year and hang..FOOTLOOSE!

Footprints

Of

Our Own!

As we go through our high school years many things influence us. Student council, chapel, dorm friendships, all influence our development. The fashions we wear are even reflected by these things. These all mold together to express who we are and the end results in our own set of footprints left behind. Whether we've been shy and reserved, outgoing and talkative, or rough and rowdy does not really matter, for, no matter what, our tracks will be FOOTPRINTS OF OUR OWN!

Student Council 1990-1991

Members of the Student Council

Our officers ... believe it or not!!

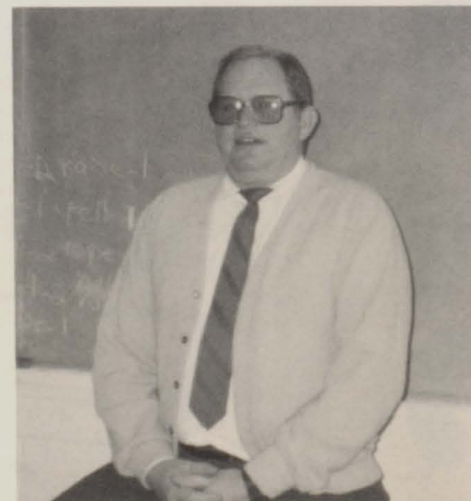

Obviously another corny joke from Mr. Peterson, huh Nicole!?

This year in student council we participated in a lot of activities. From having socials, to selling chocolates, and even purchasing new volleyballs and basketballs for the next season. We met every Wednesday and usually managed to get things organized ... except for when we were trying to figure out who threw the food across the room, or trying to figure out who really is the vice president, and our favorite, taking pictures 4 or 5 times because of ... complications. But all in all we had a good time and enjoyed taking part.

Tony is in his usual state ... "huh??"

Ok girls, are you really studying?!!

If only Mark could see her now...

So this is what you guys do for entertainment!

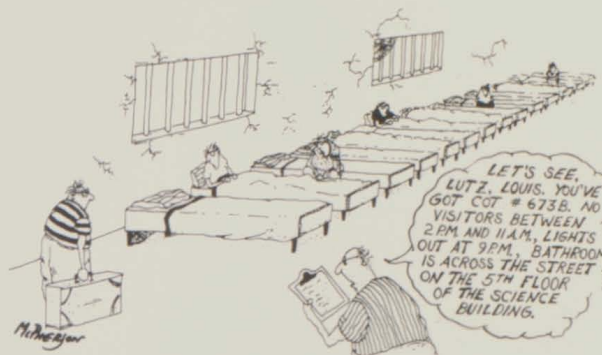

To 25 students the dorms are our "home away from home". Throughout the year we all learn to live with each other and create special lifelong friendships in the process. This year was unique in that the dorms were smaller so we got to know each other on a deeper level. I'm sure that all the dorm students will agree that living in the dorms is quite the experience.

You're so pretty, Skeeter!!

Memories in the Dorm !!

Memories can easily be made while staying in the dorms. All of us have our own memories that make the dorms special. Whether they are good or bad, with a roommate or the person next door, memories add to the uniqueness of the dorms.

Bud should have known better than to sign up for an economy dorm room.

Jenni and her one of a kind cowboy boots.

You can pay more or "Payless", but the fact remains..we need shoes. This necessity has grown into almost an art. Many use shoes to set off their personalities or to set off an outfit. Shoes are as much a part of fashion as the clothes we wear.

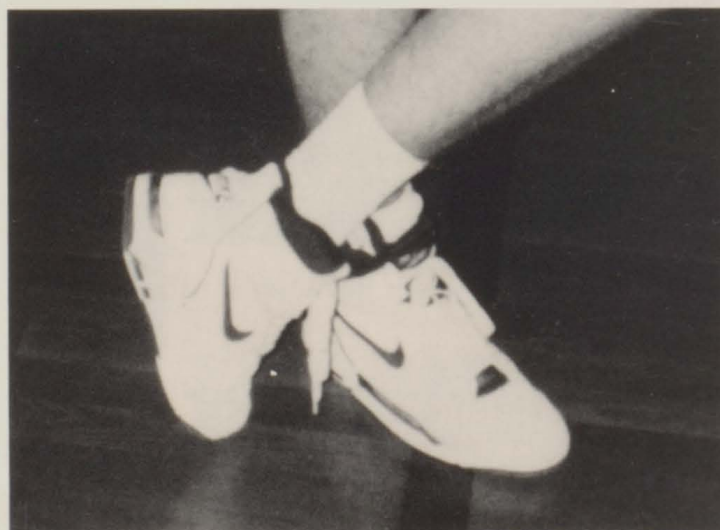

A popular "Payless" specialty.

NOT

SOLEPRINTS

Tabor College leaves soulprints in the form of music.

Mr. Davidson tells us of the soulprints left on the lives of Germans.

Soulprints - not the kind left by bare feet (soleprints), but soulprints which are the indelible marks left on the one part of us that is immortal. Each chapel speaker or film leaves one of these on our soul when they challenge us to reach out to the world, or challenge us to learn from their experiences, yet the most important challenge they give to us is to grow in the Lord. Probably some of the most memorable and challenging of these chapels this year have been the chapels in which we as students and staff took the time to build each other up. Each chapel stands unique, and leaves a very distinct soulprint on our lives. May God continue to use each of these distinctly unique prints to bring us closer together as a student body, and closer to the Lord Jesus Christ.

BUT

SOULPRINTS!

Marlene Root tells us of soulprints left by Campus Crusade.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson prepare to leave soulprints through sharing Scripture.

Mr. Hamilton tells us of soulprints found in Job.

On

Your Own

Two Feet!

Academics is a wonderful place for you to put your best foot forward. You earn grades for your schoolwork; medals for a job well done in speech, drama, and musical competitions; and letters in these and other academic categories. Each of these rewards gives you another burst of confidence to help in using the talents the Lord has given to each. It helps you to get a better perspective of who you are and what you are capable of doing. You could say that it helps you to depend on your own abilities and makes you STAND ON YOUR OWN TWO FEET!

Expressing our souls through music!

Vocal solos: Kara Lee Hitchcock, Lori Hower, Nicole Kai, Jon Musgrave, Christy Urwiller.

Every year NC sends contestants from the music department to contest in order to compete against other schools. Everyone spends lots of time and hard work so they can do their very best when they get to contest. Contest is a jittery experience and contestants feel like they're running around with their heads cut off. After "the fat lady sings" the musicians can relax and sit back knowing God has put their talents to good use. NC students have a message to sing about and that makes all the difference in NC's performance versus the performance of their competitors.

How would one describe working on the Yearbook? I guess it would depend on who you are. If you are the Editor, it means late nights with a computer that won't pay attention to your codes. If you are the Advisor, it means proofing zillions of pages until your eyes pop out. If you are a staff member it means getting notes in your mailbox to work on certain pages or else have the Editor pour her wrath out. If you are the Editor's boyfriend, it means listening to the Editor complain about up-coming deadlines and people with no common sense. Wouldn't you like to join Yearbook next year?!?!?

5. Mrs. H... our beloved speech coach!

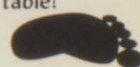

Being on a speech team is pretty unpredictable. You might finish your OPA in time to compete or you might stick with your poetry. Then there's the aspect of getting up at 4:30 a. m. You might hear your alarm clock .. and you might not. Despite all these inconveniences it's pretty fun. If you do make the bus and actually go to the meet you're in for a full day. So far, we've had 2 meets. For the most part we've managed to "keep our feet out of our mouths", but it's too early to predict if we'll have participants in the state speech meet. It's not too early though to work hard and begin preparing for our goals. Just for the record, speech team, let's really whomp up on Sutton at Districts! Let's make that much predictable-OK?

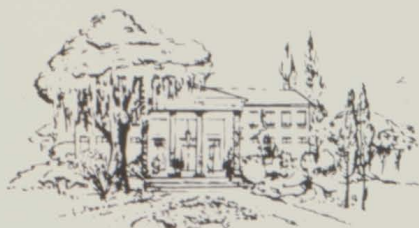

1. Nancy kicks back between rounds of competition.
2. Julie and Joy working hard on drama.

This year the drama team had the unique experience of participating in a mock trial competition. It took a lot of work, but it was also fun and interesting to learn more about the court system and how to argue a case. With help from attorney Cliff Mesner of Central City, we now know not only how to establish a case, but also some really good lawyer jokes!

Three attorneys ready to "nail em to the wall"!

The production of O. Henry's "A Thousand Dollars" for conference and district contests proved interesting, to say the least. Preparing the mock trial left little time to work on the play, so things got just a bit hectic. We all enjoyed it though, and even performed for chapel with an added twist of audience participation.

A decorative border of black footprints surrounds the entire page. The footprints are arranged in a rectangular frame, with some larger prints at the corners and smaller ones along the sides.

"FEETS" OF THE YEAR!

Athletics at N. C. are not quite the same as sports at most schools. Where else can you experience competition with teammates who are as concerned about hard work, dedication, and representing Christ on the field as you are? Being on a team brings close friendships with other teammates through the struggles and triumphs of a season helping us all to achieve the "feets" of the year.

- Nate Musgrave

EAGLE FOOTBALL 1990

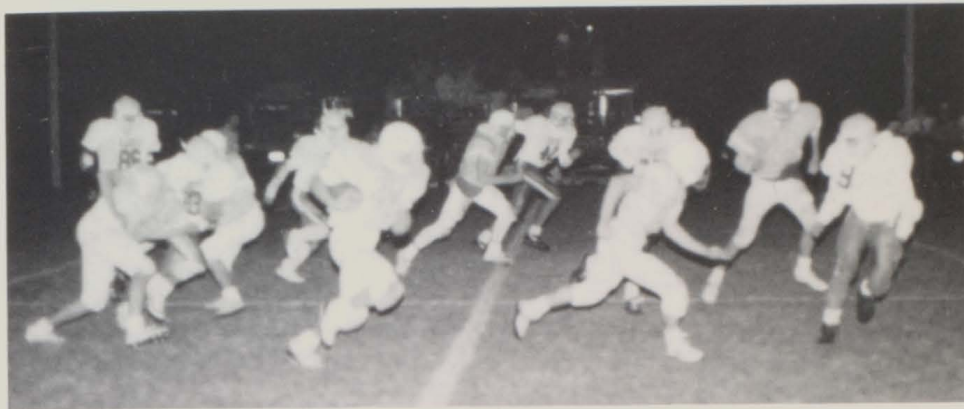

The 1990 football season was a growing experience for all of us who were involved. To say the year was just a lot of fun would not be very honest, because as a team, we went through a lot together. We didn't win many games, and often we were disappointed with our performances, but when I look back on this season, most of all I will remember a group of coaches and guys who never gave up against Palmer or NE Lutheran. We were down, but never quit. I have good memories from this year because of the people and their attitudes and how they put God first. If I had the chance I would do it all again.

Looking back over the 1990 Eagle football season, a group of players stood out and provided excellent team leadership - the seniors. Their example of hard work, clean play, and Christian character was evident all year from long hard practices to close fought games. Whether yelling encouragement from the sidelines, or from the huddle, their wholehearted support was always felt. In short, we would like to say thank you to Drew, Chad, Jon, Steve, Doug, Jeremy, Brent, and Phil. We will miss you next year and hope that we can follow your example. Thanks!

"Jump" passes?!?!?

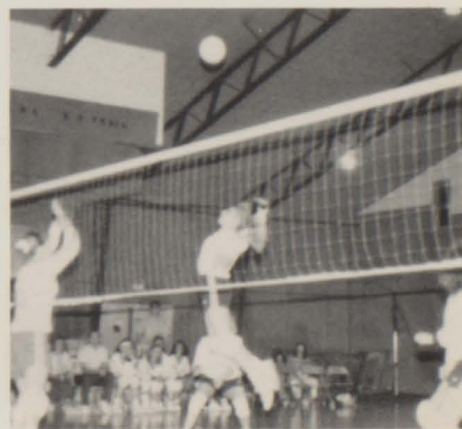

Volleyball this year was a lot of fun and totally unlike any other year. Our record was not so good, but our unity among the team was the strongest I've ever felt. Everyone was a part of our team and we couldn't have gotten along without anybody. We had our ups and downs, but we played for the Lord and that's what counts!

Fabulous "Feats".....

Every year Kearney State College chooses a group of band members to perform in their honor band. Kevin Uhler and Nicole Kai were chosen to represent NC this year. They spent a full day of practice at the college and ended the day with an evening performance.

This year Jon Musgrave and Melissa Honeywell were selected to participate in the All-State Music Clinic held in Lincoln. Melissa played her clarinet for the band, while Jon sang bass in the choir. Christy Urwiller was also chosen 4th alternate alto, but didn't participate in the clinic. Tryouts were held in Hastings, and the final performance was held at the Lied Center in Lincoln.

Each year Kearney State College chooses out of its auditioners a few to be in their honor choir. This year Christy Urwiller and Kara Hitchcock were accepted to participate. They spent the day in Kearney practicing the music and then in the evening performed with the other choir members in a concert.

Sheri Reynolds and Nicole Kai were chosen for the All-Conference V. B. team: Nicole as an honorable mention setter, Sheri as a 2nd team middle blocker. Bruce Strong was chosen as a 1st team linebacker and Drew Adams as a 2nd team running back for All-Conference F. B.

The Newest Footsteps Around!

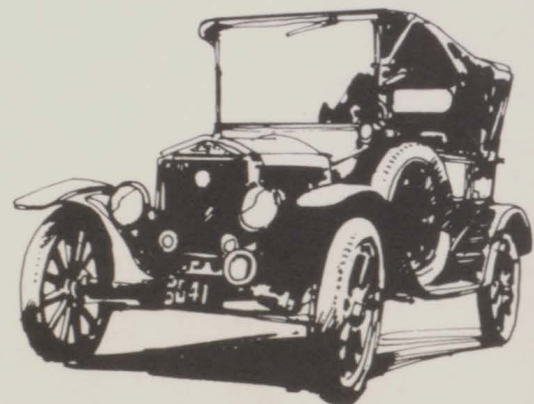

What do you like least about NC? "Detention!" Amy Potter came to NC at the start of the 2nd semester. She lives in Stromsburg, NE. She has appreciated the acceptance that she has received from the student body.

"Dorm life is great and I plan to come back next year and play football." Micky Hunt comes from Bassett, NE, and started school here at the beginning of the second semester.

Chris Worden, from Burwell, came two weeks into the 2nd semester. He likes the football program, and says he really loves this school and what it stands for.

Ben Bossard came to N. C. from Columbus, NE on Jan 18. He appreciates the friendly students and Christian teachers.

Chris Miller came here from Grand Island, Jan. 7th. He really appreciates the kindness of the student body, but like many of us, isn't crazy about the homework.

God is doing a new "thang"!

God is doing a new "thang" in the lives of this year's seniors . . . thanks to Senior Sneak 1991. We took James Jost as our speaker. (Or should I say soul feeder? - Right seniors!) He proved to be a real blast and an excellent source of spiritual insight for our futures. The spiritual aspect of it was GREAT, but we absolutely cannot omit skiing, tubing, and shopping. They all added to the fun of it all, but the best part was getting out of school . . . that and riding on the bus for a million hours. All in all you couldn't of asked for a better time. Its just too bad it had to go so fast. Never forget it, seniors, God is doing a new "thang" . . . if we just let Him!

TAKE A PEEK!

You have reached an important milestone!

CONGRATULATIONS!

Not that I have arrived, but I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of Jesus Christ.

THE SENIORS' REACTION TO DESERT STORM

As editor of the "90-91" yearbook, I felt it necessary to address the Persian Gulf War. The United States declared war on Iraq Jan. 17, 2:44 a. m. Baghdad time. This issue has affected millions of lives including that of my senior class. In Bible, with Mr. Musgrave, we as a class have spent a lot of time discussing the war ... sometimes on a very emotional level. We are all thoroughly disgusted with Saddam Hussein, and we are all thoroughly saddened at the thought of the POWs. Thoughts of the draft being reenacted are also mentioned. The senior guys are very patriotic and will defend freedom if duty calls, but for now we watch, waiting to see what God's will holds for the future.

- Kara Lee, senior

A Washington official at a Pentagon briefing shares latest information on the bombing successes.

Saddam Hussein, the world's biggest madman, has created this Middle East War.

Two U. S. soldiers waiting in preparation for the ground war to make its start.

Jeffrey N. Zaun, a lieutenant of the U. S. Navy...taken POW.

Clifford M. Acree, lieutenant col. Marine ... taken POW.

How do you feel?

How does the war change your outlook on the future?

"It makes prophecy more vivid." - Jon Musgrave

"I guess it makes me take the draft a lot more serious." - Jason Urwiller

"The war makes me wonder how long it will be until Christ comes." - Kelley DeMary

"I can see the draft being reenacted and spending a few years serving my country." - Jeremy Hampton

What is your reaction to the way POWs are being treated by Hussein?

"It stinks!!!!!!!!!" - Sam Cameron

"I feel really sorry for them." - Nicole Kai

"I think it is inhumane and it makes me sick!" - Kara Hitchcock

What is your reaction to the possibility of the draft starting?

"I won't let it happen!!!" - Bethany Bokelman

"I hope my brother doesn't have to go." - Andi Cupples

THE END!
